To see a tree

to see a flower

to see eternity pass in an hour

To see the ground green with life
to know the love of a beautiful wife.

To see the earth in all of its glory
is to see times story

To breathe the clean cool air,
to look, wonder, and stare,

To search for an end to sorrow
is to search for the life that belongs to tomorrow.

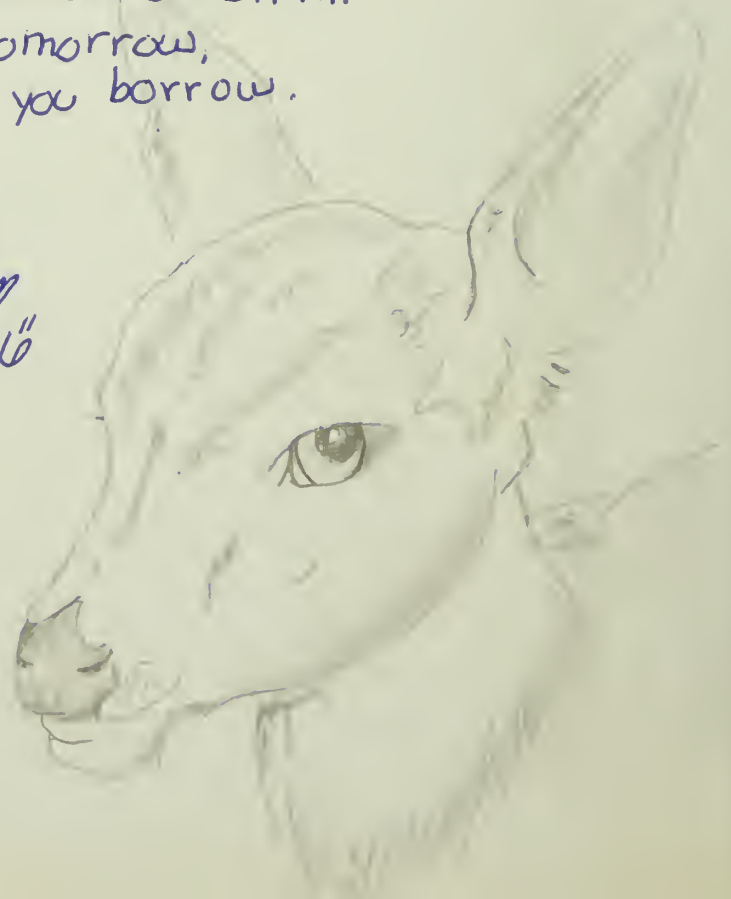

To see the ocean white with foam,
to know the want of a loving home.

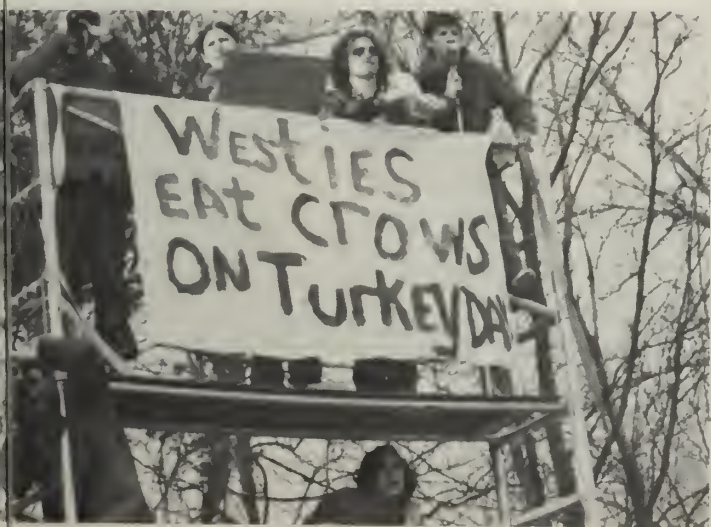

To watch a bird suspended in flight,
to be able to do what is your right.

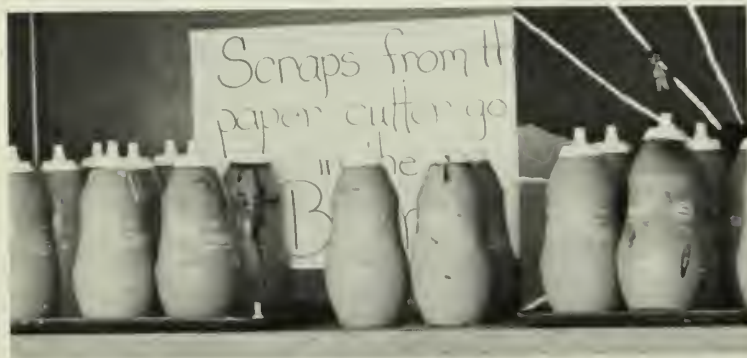

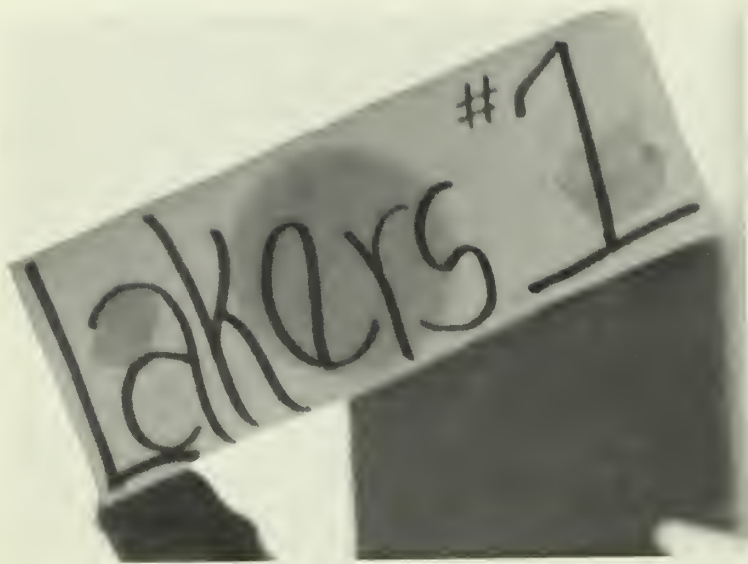

To ask the questions of this earth,
to seek an answer to a child's birth.

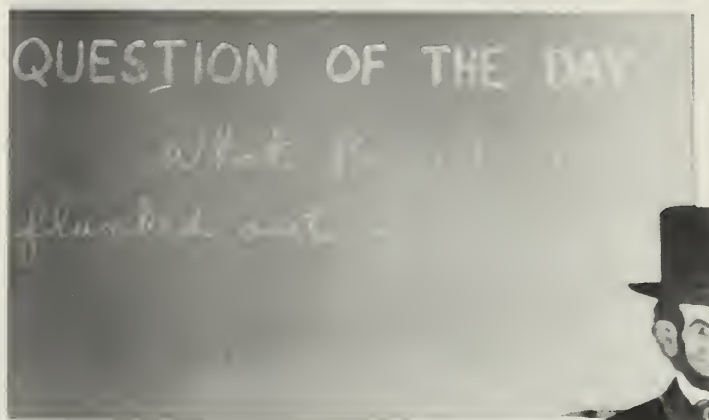

To imagine wonders of tomorrow,
is to for the time that you borrow.

Dedication

We, the class of 1975, dedicate our yearbook to the memory of our classmate Roger Hermann, who was taken from us in the summer of 1974. In Roger we saw a quiet individual who made his presence known in small, memorable ways. Many of us were close to him but it was in his death that he touched us all, leaving us with a sense of loss but with an even greater appreciation of life.

TO THE CLASS OF 1975:

Welcome to the "Quarter-Century Club", which only four classes per century can join. I was a member of the last such club in 1950, so can tell you very vividly that the next twenty-five years will be an exciting, rewarding, vital period of your lives — and, they will pass in a flash just like yesterday and the days last week.

Today you begin the trip to the year 2000. While some things which happen to you will be beyond your control, YOU are the most important factor in the events to come. When you look back over this yearbook in the year 2000, you should be proud of accomplishments for yourself; service to your country, friendships which have lasted, adventures remembered and a place in history carved by you and your family. Start strong and always be able to look backward with pride!

Sincerely,

A SORROWFUL GOODBYE

As Freshmen we were new,
Like the morning grass full of dew.

As Sophomores our minds were clear,
We couldn't wait until our Junior year.

As Juniors we laughed and played.
Never thinking of our Senior days.

Now they've arrived unexpectedly
And caught us by surprise.
Our time has come to leave.

So with a tear in our eye
And hope in our heart,
With Apponequet High School
We must part.
